Introduction

This is a report on the contents of a probate court record of the settlement of one deceased person's estate, including discussion, commentary, financial highlights, and a partial transcript. The purpose of the report is to capture a bit of family history, for the interest of future generations. The work was done by a true amateur, who by definition pursues an art or craft because he loves it, and not because he has any special skills.

Hethcote Chilcote was born in 1821 in Licking County, Ohio, possibly in McKean Township north of Granville. His family is believed to have come there from Huntingdon County in Central Pennsylvania. From Licking County, Hethcote moved to Harmony Township, in Morrow County, Ohio, probably in the early 1840s. His older brother first purchased land in Harmony Township in 1838. Hethcote is listed in the 1850 U.S. Census as residing in Morrow County.

His father, also named Hethcote, is listed in the 1840 U.S. Census as residing in McKean Township of Licking County, Ohio. The father is listed in the 1850 U.S. Census as living in Morrow County, Ohio, and died there in 1858. There is one real estate transfer recorded in Morrow County in 1854 between Hethcote Sr. and Hethcote Jr. (Deeds Volume 9, page 220).

It is not known whether the father and son moved from Licking County to Morrow County at the same time. After living for about 40 years in Morrow County, Hethcote the son migrated from Ohio to Coffey County, Kansas, around 1884. He died on January 30, 1900, outside the village of Waverly, in Rock Creek Township, Coffey County. His remains were interred at the Waverly Cemetery.

Hethcote's Kansas home stood on the north side of what is now 23rd Road Northeast between Trefoil Road NE and Underwood Road NE. The house was on an 80-acre farm described as the East Half of the Southwest Quarter of Section 25, Township 19, Range 16, East of the Sixth Principal Meridian. Hethcote is believed to have been married three times, to Mary Elizabeth Snair/Snare and then to Catherine Warner Hulse in Ohio, and to Maria J. [Bethel/Bethell?] Dodd in Kansas. Maria survived him.

Here is Hethcote's obituary from a copy in the Coffey County Library in Burlington:

H. Chilcote died at his home 2-1/2 miles south-east of Waverly at 6 o'clock p.m. Tuesday, January 30 [1900] of a complication of diseases. Hemorrhage of the lungs was the direct cause of his death, but he had been suffering a long time with dropsy of the heart and paralysis of the bladder.

Deceased was born 79 years ago in Licking County, Ohio. He came to Kansas in 1884 and settled on the farm where he died. A wife, 8 children and 7 step-children survive him and mourn the loss of a loving husband and parent. Mr. Chilcote was a popular and respected citizen and his death casts a sorrow into many lives.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. J.D. Smith at the M.E. Church to day (Friday) at 2 o'clock.

"Dropsy" was a term for swelling of the soft tissues, known later as edema, and possibly associated with congestive heart failure.

Hethcote was evidently a man of property, owning 120 acres of real estate at the time of his death, and having loaned money to between 50 and 60 borrowers, whose promissory notes formed a good portion of the appraised value of his estate. He had invested $9,292.65 in both “good” and “bad” (that is, value = $0) loans, the equivalent of approximately $316,000 in 2018 dollars. His total appraised estate was valued at $11,773.44, worth approximately $400,000 in 2018 dollars.

He left both a prenuptial agreement and a last will and testament. His estate went through the Coffey County Probate Court starting just after his death, with the last documented payments being made in March 1904. It appears that his widow, Maria J. Dodd, owned separate real estate prior to and during their marriage. As her late husband’s estate was being settled and the executors had entered into a contract to sell the 80-acre farm where she lived to an Adam Emmerich, Maria filed a civil suit in Coffey County District Court (Case 4165) against the other named heirs, evidently to claim a greater share of Hethcote’s estate than the prenuptial agreement and the will had provided. This lawsuit was settled out of court and dismissed, as documented in both the estate and the civil court case records from Coffey County.

U.S. Census and other genealogical records show that Hethcote had 12 children with his first two wives. Information on his first wife, Mary Elizabeth Snair/Snare, is elusive. No record has been found of her death or burial, nor of her appearing in any census after the 1850 census in Ohio, when she was listed as Hethcote’s spouse, age 28 and with three children between the ages of 6 years (Denton) and 10 months (Mary Jane). Some informal and unverified family records indicate that Mary Elizabeth died c. 1852 to 1854.

Catherine Hulse (1826-1879), the second wife, is listed on an Ohio marriage license as having married Hethcote in 1856 (Morrow County marriages, Vol. 1, pg. 196, No. 210). More research is needed to determine which of the children were born to Mary Elizabeth and which were born to Catherine. Catherine is interred in Morrow County, Ohio. Hethcote migrated to Kansas about 5 years after she died at age 53. Eight of the 12 children lived to survive Hethcote in 1900, as shown in the unshaded rows of the table below.

Name	Birth Yr	Death Yr	Comments
Denton Chilcote	1843	1917	Resided in Ohio
Nicodemus Chilcote	1844	1848	Died ~age 4 yrs
Susan Doty Hendrix	1845	1934	Migrated to Kansas
Mary Jane Chilcote	1849	1854	Died ~age 5 yrs
Nancy Corwin	1851-53?	after 1900	Migrated to Kansas
Matilda Kelly	1854	1942	Migrated to Kansas
Wilbert Chilcote	1857	1926	Resided in Ohio
Lyman/Lymon Chilcote	1859	1862	Died ~age 3 yrs
Viola Goodman	1862	1906	Migrated to Kansas
Martha Ulrey	1864	1935	Resided in Ohio
Lewis Chilcote	1866	1912	Migrated to Kansas
Wilson Chilcote	1869	1891	Died ~age 22 yrs

As discussed below, for some reason Denton and the five youngest surviving children were treated far differently in Hethcote’s will compared to the two older daughters, Susan and Nancy. If Nancy was born in 1851 and Hethcote’s first wife Mary Elizabeth died in 1852, then all of the adult children who received larger shares of the estate (except Denton) may have been the children of Hethcote's second wife, Catherine. It is unknown whether this potential difference has any connection to the birth mothers.

How this Report Was Prepared

The brothers Vincent J. Brown and Steven K. Brown, among others, trace their descent from Hethcote through their father Buford Brown as follows:

Hethcote Chilcote (1821-1900)

 Denton Chilcote (1843-1917)

 William Benton Chilcote (1872-1960)

 Hazel Loree Chilcote Brown (1898-1977)

 W. Buford Brown (1926-2003)

The two brothers took a brief genealogy trip in September/October 2018, to visit Fillmore Cemetery and the grave of a man believed to be Hethcote's older brother, Nicodemus Chilcote (1806-1878), north of Chesterville, Douglas County, in east central Illinois. Vincent then continued westward to Waverly and Burlington, in eastern Kansas, to visit the grave of Hethcote Chilcote. Along the way both brothers collected information from public records in courthouses, libraries, and museums.

The records on which this summary report was based are stored in digital electronic image form by the District Court in Burlington, Kansas, as Case 923. They are indexed on a computer that is available to the public, and court clerks can print copies of the records for a nominal fee. Your author obtained just over 200 pages, constituting a copy of the entire estate file. He then reviewed and transcribed almost all of the contents of these pages, omitting some lengthy sections of standard preprinted court forms with no family-related information. He then studied and combed the records again for any financial information, transcribing this information into three worksheets:

- The inventory and appraisal filed in March 1900
- Cash flows to and from the estate, as documented in annual and final executors' accounts
- Individual items such as bills and receipts, which contained greater detail on many of the expenditures and disbursements.

Only a few of the original records in this case were typewritten; the majority were handwritten in ink or pencil. The reliance on second-generation digital page images and the variation in handwriting, not to mention idiosyncratic spelling and punctuation, means that some information in this transcript is uncertain. When an entry is doubtful, a [??] symbol appears in the transcript. Likewise, the documentation is imperfect. There is not a 1:1 correspondence between each receipt or bill/slip and every entry in the annual and final accounts. The author of this transcript has attempted to weed out any double-counting and to make the cash flows as complete and accurate as possible. The purpose was not to produce a 100% airtight audit of the estate records, but rather to give a general idea of the finances of one household/estate as it went through probate court at the turn of the 20th Century.

A copy of the full transcript is provided in Appendix A, and a list of all personal names appearing in the records is provided in Appendix B. Extracts and highlights from the transcript and the financial spreadsheet appear below.

Prenuptial Agreement and Civil Suit

The widower Hethcote Chilcote and the widow Maria Jane (Bethel?) Dodd executed a prenuptial agreement on Saturday, November 12, 1887, about 3 years after Hethcote migrated from Ohio to Kansas (Item 001). Witnesses to the agreement were A.B. Hutchison and J.L. Senior. Maria may have been born in Ohio herself, but beyond some census records in Kansas, little is known about her background prior to 1887. The wedding was three days later, on Tuesday, November 15, 1887, as documented in Coffey County Book D, page 019. The groom was about 66 years of age, and the bride was about 39.

The main purposes of the agreement were threefold: (1) to clarify a financial arrangement that Hethcote made for Maria's support, and (2) to protect the separate property rights of each party, and (3) to specify the rights of each party's respective heirs upon the deaths of Hethcote and Maria. Assuming that Hethcote, being about 27 years her senior, would predecease Maria, Hethcote promised that $1,000 of his estate would be invested by his executors, and the interest or profits from this amount were to be given to Maria annually for her use and support as long as she lived, unless she were to remarry. At her remarriage or her death, the interest payments would stop, and the $1,000 principal would descend to Hethcote's heirs.

The agreement also specified that each spouse was to have "sole and exclusive control of all [his/her] property real and personal." The agreement seemed to indicate that Hethcote and Maria each came into the marriage with his or her own, separate property, and agreement attempted to set aside or override the usual idea of joint ownership or rights of dower. The agreement also specified that at the death of either party, except for the $1,000 investment listed above, then his or her own separate property would descend by inheritance to only his or her own heirs, and not to the heirs of the spouse. That is, Maria's particular heirs were to have no claim upon Hethcote's separate estate after his death, and "in like manner," Hethcote's particular heirs were to have no claim upon Maria's separate estate after her death.

As one possible example of Maria's "separate property," a 1901 plat map of the area 5 miles west of Hethcote's home in Section 25 shows that an M.J. Chilcote owned 160 acres, being the northeast quarter of Section 31, Township 19 South, Range 16 East. The same parcel is shown on an 1878 plat map as belonging to J.S. Dodd, who is believed to have been a previous husband of Maria J. Dodd. On the 1901 map, this land is shown as being north of School No. 80 (to which Hethcote evidently loaned money) and northwest of the village of Halls Summit on the railway.

One apparent omission from the prenuptial agreement was an itemization or identification of the real and personal property that was considered to be the "separate property" of each party. As described below, in March 1900, two months after Hethcote's death, the executors entered an agreement to sell the 80-acre farm, where Hethcote had lived and Maria still presumably lived, to an Adam Emmerich. On May 22, 1900, Maria filed a petition in the District Court of Coffey County, identified as Case No. 4165. The original petition is nearly illegible, but from evidence in Hethcote's estate records (Items 033, 061, 063, and 064) and other documents in the civil lawsuit file, it appears that Maria sued the other heirs named in Hethcote's will for a larger share of his property. Item 033 below is a June 1900 petition from the executors to the Probate Judge, requesting permission for the estate to employ and pay legal counsel. The petition states: "...the said estate of Hethcote Chilcote Decd has been sued in the District Court of said County, said suit involving a great portion of the property belonging to and is a part of the assets of said estate.” According to the terms of the settlement agreement that resulted in Case No. 4165 being dismissed a year later in March 1901, Maria accepted a large cash payment (Item 063).

The author of this summary received a letter written in 1977 from a Mrs. Vernon Huntsucker (maiden name Winifred Hetzel, 1922-1998). She was a native of Waverly but then residing in Oregon. Mrs. Huntsucker’s father and uncle bought the “Chilcote place” when Maria J. Chilcote died in 1929, and she said that her parents spoke of their neighbor Mrs. Chilcote many times. This suggests that Mrs. Chilcote continued to own the 80-acre farm and may also have continued to reside in the house southeast of Waverly until her death. If true, then somehow Maria was able to retain possession of the farm or at least the dwelling.

Very likely, Hethcote’s executors attempted to use the will and the prenuptial agreement to eventually evict the widow Mrs. Chilcote from her home and 80-acre farm in Section 25 so that they could sell it. (The agreement with Emmerich said that the executors were to deliver the deed and possession of the 80 acres to Emmerich 10 months later, by January 1, 1901.) This prospective sale caused Mrs. Chilcote to bring the lawsuit in May, claiming some right (for example, a dower right) to the farm because of her marriage to Hethcote. This is only speculation, but Maria may have thought that a judge or jury would protect her from being evicted by her late husband’s executors, and that her right as a resident of the farm as Hethcote’s wife (for 13 years from 1887 to 1900) outweighed the language in the prenuptial agreement about each party’s “separate” property both real and personal. Alternately, Maria and her attorneys may have argued that the home place of 80 acres was not considered Hethcote’s separate property at all, as defined in the prenuptial agreement.

This timeline is strengthened by the appearance in the estate record of certain agreements related to an Adam Emmerich/Emmerick. In late March 1900 (Item 023 below), the two Kansas executors agreed to a bond for deed with Mr. Emmerich, under which the estate agreed to sell the 80-acre Section 25 farm to Mr. Emmerich for $2,400. In mid-January 1901, there was an agreement for probate hearing (Item 051) in the matter of Emmerich vs. Kelly and Goodman, Executors, charging that the executors had breached the 1900 bond and had not delivered possession of the farm to the intended buyer on schedule. The estate paid Mr. Emmerich $91.85 in damages, evidently to settle this suit.

The 80-acre farm in question was appraised at $2,400, and Mrs. Chilcote settled her own lawsuit for a payment of $1,644.40. She agreed to waive the payment of the interest from the $1,000 cited in the prenuptial agreement and the will, and to waive all other claims against her late husband’s estate (Items 061, 063, 064). She may have used the $1,644.40 to help purchase the farm at its market value from the estate, because the 1902 annual account from the probate court records shows payments in July 1901 of $50 and $1,340 from M.J. Chilcote to the estate, and described as “Land 80 A sold to Chilcote.” Then the 1903 annual account shows another large payment of $1,596 from M.J. Chilcote to the estate in August 1902, described only as “Chilcote note.” These three payments total $2,986, which is close to the appraised value of the 80-acre farm in Section 25. Further research is needed in the Coffey County Courthouse land transfer records to verify what actually happened.

The Will and its Provisions for Hethcote’s Widow and His Adult Children

The will is a curious document (Item 002). It was signed and sealed on Monday, September 27, 1897. However, the prenuptial agreement made ten years earlier (in November 1887) cites an existing “Last Will and Testament which he [Hethcote] has made heretofore.” The language about Maria Chilcote receiving the income from the $1,000 is the first bequest, and the will incorporates the prenuptial agreement by reference as “the contract hereunto attached.”

Of the deceased’s eight surviving children, two are treated differently from the remaining six. Hethcote’s second-oldest surviving daughter Nancy Corwin is bequeathed $300, with the unusual stipulation that “should she refuse to accept it, it is then my will that this sum be equally divided between her children.”

Hethcote’s oldest surviving daughter Susan M. Hendrix is bequeathed $10 plus four promissory notes, which had been “executed to me [Hethcote] by E.W. Doty former husband of Susan M. Hendrix.” The total principal for all four loans was $897. According to an affidavit sworn by J.M. Stewart as a witness (Item 122), in July 1902, more than 2 years after Hethcote’s death, the two executors met with Mrs. Hendrix at her home and tendered to her the $10 and the four promissory notes. The affidavit is unclear on exactly who the borrowers and lenders were for these four notes. The language “executed to me” in the will could mean that all four notes represented money borrowed by Doty from Hethcote. The affidavit also says that the four notes “were given to deceased by her former husband, E.W. Doty.”

However, in the affidavit, the first and last notes are described without stating or implying the identities of the borrower or the lender. The second and third notes are described as having been “Made by said E.W. Doty to said deceased.” It is not known whether the first and fourth notes were from loans from Hethcote to his son-in-law, or were notes from loans that Doty had made to other parties, and which Doty somehow assigned to Hethcote as tokens of value.

Three of the notes were made in 1882, and the fourth in 1884. E.W. Doty died in August 1884 and was interred in the Waverly Cemetery, in Kansas. He may have migrated there from Ohio in 1882, two years before Hethcote did, and Doty borrowed the funds to finance the move to the new place.

It seems clear, from the language in the will bequeathing Susan only $10 and four old, mostly unpaid I.O.U.s, that there may have been hard feelings between Hethcote and Susan over unpaid debts after 13 to 15 years. The total repayments toward these notes, as documented in the Stewart affidavit, were $117.71. Interestingly, the Stewart affidavit says that the executors “tendered” the cash and the four notes to Susan, which means only that they offered them to her. The affidavit does not say whether she accepted them. Likewise the bequest of $300 to Nancy Corwin indicates some difference in the relationship between father and daughter, compared to those of the other six siblings.

[One interesting sidelight is that the 1901 plat map of the area south of Waverly shows that a W.W. Doty (presumably Hethcote’s grandson, William W. Doty (1867-1944, who is interred in Hoyt Cemetery, Jackson County, Kansas, north of Topeka) owned the adjoining 80-acre farm to the west of Hethcote and Maria’s farm in Section 25. One wonders how the near neighbors got along.]

The other six surviving adult children, namely Denton Chilcote, Matilda Kelly, Wilbert Chilcote, Viola Goodman, Martha Ulrey, and Lewis Chilcote, were to divide all remaining property from the estate equally among themselves. This turned out to be a substantial amount of money for each of them, paid out in seven periodic installments between February 1901 and March 1904. These six each received the amounts shown below, most of which were timed to match the annual administrators’ accounts.

Date	Amount, $
February 1901	$156.66
February 1902	$262.00
February 1902	$360.00
February 1903	$319.52
February 1903	$300.00
February 1903	$18.92
March 1904	$21.00
TOTAL	$1,438.10

The Bureau of Labor Statistics offers an inflation calculator, but it extends back only to 1913. A private web site (www.halfhill.com, Tom's Inflation Calculator, JS v3.12) gives the value of $1,438.10 in 1900 as the equivalent of $48,882 for each heir in 2018 dollars, based on his calculation of the Consumer Price Index. This same resource was used for all 1900 to 2018 conversions in this report.

Hethcote named his eldest son Denton and two of his Kansas sons-in-law, J.M. Kelly and Isaac T. Goodman, his executors, but Kelly and Goodman appear to have been the only executors in fact. There is an affidavit in the file (Item 074) in which J.M. Kelly swears that Denton Chilcote is a resident of Ohio and has never been a resident of Kansas. This may have been supporting Denton's having been excused from serving as executor.

Summary of Estate Valuation, February 1900

Three independent appraisers were appointed on February 15, 1900, and each was paid $2.50 for his services: H.P. Donnell, A.P. Reed, and N. Basye (Item 021). The line items in the appraisal and inventory fall into several categories, with the valuations shown below:

Type of Property	Appraised Value, $	% of Total
Promissory notes for money owed to the estate ^a	$7,464.95	63%
Personal property reserved by the widow, mainly household items	$189.00	2%
Real estate	$3,120.00	27%
Cash and other miscellaneous personal property	$999.49	8%
TOTAL	$11,773.44	100%

a. This amount includes the principal value of the four "Hendrix" notes that were specified in the will as belonging to the deceased, but which were not listed in the formal appraisal of March 1900. This amount does not include the principal amounts for the "bad" loans appraised as value = $0.

Besides the normal household furnishings and chattels included in the inventory, several items of note include: washing machine ($8); buggy ($10); horse, 21 years old ($10); cow ($25); fire proof safe ($9); silver watch ($6); and about $700 in cash.

Hethcote owned two parcels of real estate at the time of his death:

- 80 Acres: The East half of the South West Quarter of Section Twenty Five (25), Township Nineteen (19), Range Sixteen (16) East in Coffey County, Kansas. Value: $2,400.00
- 40 Acres: The South East Quarter of the North West Quarter of Section Thirty One (31), Township Nineteen (19), Range Seventeen (17) East in Coffey County and State of Kansas. Value: $720.00

Section 25 is about 2 miles southeast of Waverly, and Section 31 is adjacent to and diagonally southeast of Section 25.

[Interesting sidelights not directly related to the estate or appraisal: (1) Hethcote's referenced parcel in Section 31 of Range 17 is shown in a 1901 plat map as adjoining an 80-acre parcel to the north belonging to J.T. Goodman, likely a transcription error for the name of Hethcote's son-in-law Isaac Thomas Goodman. That same plat map shows J.M. Kelly as the owner of an 80-acre parcel one mile north, in the west half of the southeast quarter of Section 19. The author of this summary has not made a careful search of these plat maps, but ran across these parcels incidentally in doing other research.]

Summary of Cash Flows Through Probate Court Settlement

Using all known financial records in the appraisal report, the annual and final accounts of administration (Items 057, 106, and 135), and any loose items (bills, receipts, etc.) that do not appear in any other record, the estate appears to have received $12,817.96 and expended $13,222.49. Presumably, these numbers differ by about $400 because of errors or double-counting in the original bookkeeping, inconsistent collection and submission of written records to the court, errors in transcribing and calculating the information for this summary report, or all of the above.

The author of this summary subjectively classified each expenditure. The sum paid out by the estate for each expenditure category is shown in the table below.

Expense Category	Amount, $
Inheritance	$9,200.60
Court Settlements	$1,736.27
Executor	$966.18
Fees, Legal	$608.35
Tax	$261.89
Funeral	$197.13
Medical	$91.70
Fees, Court	$79.80
Misc. Services	$35.07
Fees, Land Records	$27.25
Insurance	$12.25
Unknown	$6.00
TOTAL	$13,222.49

Likewise, the author subjectively classified each item of revenue (amounts paid by others) to the estate. The sum received by the estate for each income category is shown in the table below.

Income Category	Amount, $
Loan Repayments ^a	$9,321.62
Land Sales ^a	$2,400.00
Farm Commodity Sales	$531.91
Cash from Widow	$343.30
Rents	$110.00
Other Income	$111.13
TOTAL	$12,817.96

a. Some of the loan repayments may have been for loans on the sale of the estate's land. Further research on real estate selling prices is needed to verify the correct allocations.

One other curiosity, which does not affect the cash flows, was a bill of claims for medical care and other services (Item 101), filed by the executor I.T. Goodman against the estate, namely against the other executor J.M. Kelly. Mr. Goodman's claim totaled $1,168.25 for 35 days of nursing care, plus various damages caused by Mr. Goodman's having contracted blood poisoning while acting as nurse, with $250 claimed for loss of time and $500 for pain and suffering. The claim was eventually noted as "settled out of court and dismissed" in January 1902.

Funeral-Related Expenses

As a point of curiosity, here are the funeral-related expenses:

Description	Amount, $
Casket and Hearse	$75.00
Robe	$5.00
Embalming	$10.00
Livery at Funeral	$1.52
Digging Grave	$3.00
Death Message to Ohio	$2.61
One Granite Monument	$100.00
TOTAL	$197.13

Legal and Law-Related Fees

Some of the fees shown in the table below may not have been for attorney services, but for services such as preparing legal reports/accounts or acknowledging deeds and other instruments, preparing contracts, or for services in collecting debts. Some records show James Martin and others show John Martin. These are believed to represent the same person.

Attorney/Firm	Amount, $
Cooper, H.L.	$389.00
Martin, J.	$185.20
Arthur, C.F.	$11.25
Rolston, J.	$10.00
Metzger, J.W.	$5.00
Senior, J.L.	$5.00
Ganse & Hannen	$2.45
Unknown	$0.30
Donnell, H.P.	$0.15

Loan Payments and Defaults

The table below lists all known promissory notes in Hethcote's possession at the time of his death, mostly from the appraisal and inventory, plus the four "Doty" notes enumerated in the last will and testament as being given to Susan M. Hendrix. The Doty notes are shown at the top of the table.

The first column shows the names of the main borrowers (shaded) and presumably any cosigners on the loans, when applicable, listed beneath each main borrower. After the Doty notes, the loans are sorted alphabetically by the main borrower's last name. The "good" loans are shown first, followed by the "bad" or value = $0 loans at the bottom, in alphabetical order by the borrower's last name. Some loans were documented in the original records as being made, for example, to "C.H. Baugh and Wife." In such instances, when the wife's name is not recorded, only the husband's name appears in the table below.

In the second column, an X signifies that the borrower was a relative of Hethcote's. The third column shows the loan value or principal amount, followed in the fourth column by the sum of all documented repayments during the period 1900 to 1904. Loans with an appraised value of $0 are shown with boldface cell borders. These are assumed to be writeoffs or bad debts.

An approximate interest rate is shown as calculated by dividing the repayments by the loan value and then subtracting 1 and then multiplying times 100 to yield a percent value. These should be taken with caution, because there is no way of knowing the agreed-upon rates or the terms or conditions of the loans, nor the time periods over which the repayments were made, based on the date of the original loan. That is, some loans may have been carried for several years, with interest compounding until the loans were repaid. It appears that Hethcote typically charged his family 6% interest and all others about 10% interest, possibly higher rates.

It may be that some of the interest rates (or rates of repayment) that are far higher than 10% represent extra payments for loans that were not recorded in the appraisal, for example for side debts that the same borrower owed to the estate. It may also be that some of the repayments were late by several years, during which the interest had accumulated. For example, a 10% loan made nominally for one year, if held for two years and then repaid with interest, would presumably return 20% or more. A third theory is that in some cases, Hethcote was operating as what is now called a "sub-prime lender," and loaned money to higher-risk borrowers at rates exceeding 10%.

There is one surviving promissory note in the estate record, documenting a loan from Hethcote to A.B. Brooks, with terms as follows:

One year after date I promise to pay to the order of H. Chilcote One Hundred Dollars for value received, with interest from date at the rate of 10 per cent per annum and if interest be not paid annually, to become as principal, and bear the same rate of interest.

Negotiable and payable without defalcation or discount

These terms seem to align with the interest amounts shown for most of the non-family loans in the table below. Notably, Hethcote appears to have made one zero-interest loan to a local school district, No. 80, incidentally near where Maria owned a 160-acre farm five miles to the west.

A column of notes and comments lists additional information pertaining to the loan. For example, some borrowers would pay off two loans at one time. In those cases, the loan amounts were summed per borrower, so that the interest calculations would be more accurate.

The totals shown at the bottom were calculated in several ways. If the four bad or written off “Doty” loans—whose promissory notes or I.O.U.s were returned to Susan Hendrix—are included, then Hethcote’s overall return was only about 1.5%. If the Hendrix loans are removed from the calculation altogether, then the overall return increases to about 14%. Neither of these methods takes into account the other bad loans shown at the bottom of the table, where the appraised value was $0. This is admittedly a rough and simplistic way of summarizing Hethcote’s activity as a financier.

Looking across all of the loans, the average principal was $143 and the median principal was $100. The smallest loan was for $10 and the largest was for $687. It is interesting that most of the value = $0 loans had no cosigners. This may simply mean that the appraisers knew that the notes were worthless, so there was nothing to be gained by taking the time to transcribe the names of the co-signers. Or, taken as a group, these may have been riskier borrowers to begin with, having no one to co-sign their notes.

It may be coincidental to Hethcote's career as a local financier in Kansas, but according to Wikipedia, from the panic of 1873 through 1879 or 1896, Europe and the U.S. were strongly affected by a worldwide price and economic recession, called the "Long Depression." In the U.S., from 1873 to 1879, 18,000 businesses went bankrupt. Ten states and hundreds of banks went bankrupt. This could be one factor that brought Hethcote and local borrowers together commercially.

Interestingly, of the loans outstanding at the time of Hethcote's death, six family members, namely his widow, her son or brother C.A. Dodd, and three of his sons-in-law (Goodman, Kelly, and Ulrey) had all borrowed money.

Borrower	Loan Amount, $
Chilcote, M.J.	$125.00
Dodd, C.A.	$915.00
Goodman	$200.00
Kelly	$150.00
Ulrey	$100.00
Doty (Hendrix)	$897.00

No loans were outstanding to Hethcote's daughter Nancy Corwin, nor to any of Hethcote's three surviving sons, Denton, Wilbert, or Lewis.

My Dear Sir

I herewith forward your Letters of Adm.

We overlooked making out the Petition. You please have Mr. Kelly sign it where I indicated with Pencil. And return to me and I will Place it in Record.

I have saw nothing of Connell. I find I am out of Blanks giving fees for mileage &c of appraisers but it is same as would be for witnesses. The fees for services in District Court govern in our court. Hence you can have no difficulty in making out account &c. It can be reduced to another form when it arrives here if need be.

Very truly yours etc.,

W.H. Vermillion

[When the judge says "Connell," he may have meant H.P. Donnell, whose name appears several places in these records.]

State of Kansas)

Coffey County) ss In the matter of the estate of Hethcote Chilcote deceased

J.W. Stewart being first duly sworn, upon his oath says that he was present to the home of Mrs. J.W. Hendricks, formerly the wife of E.W. Doty and daughter of the said deceased Hethcote Chilcote, in the month of July A.D. 1902 when J.M. Kelly and I.T. Goodman, executors of the last will of said deceased tendered to her as her distributive share of the estate of said deceased ten dollars in lawful money of the United States and Four notes which were given to deceased by her former husband, E.W. Doty as follows to wit:

One note dated July 16th 1882 for two hundred and forty seven dollars and indorsed as follows:
"$11.51 Jany 5/84 Recd on the within note Eleven & 51/100 dollars."
"March 27th 1885 Received on the within note ten dollars," which said note is referred to in said last will as of date July 7th 1882.

[This above is the $247.00 note identified in the Will.]

Also one note for $300.00 Made by said E.W. Doty to said deceased and dated July 16th 1882 on which no payment is indorsed.

Also one note for $200.00 between said parties, dated December 7th 1882 and indorsed as follows to wit:

[None of the four promissory notes were found in the inventory and appraisal of the estate. The appraisers may have known of the will and its provisions that these four promissory notes were to be bequeathed to Susan M. (Chilcote Doty) Hendrix, so the appraisers omitted them.

The loan for $300 and for $200 appear to represent funds from Hethcote to his son-in-law E.W. Doty. However, it is unclear whether the loan for $247 and the loan for $150 were also between Hethcote and E.W. Doty. The will says that all four notes were "executed to me (i.e., Hethcote) by E.W. Doty." So Mr. Doty may have been the borrower on all four notes, or he may have given two of the notes to Hethcote as items of value, to be collected from third party borrower(s) who are unknown.

The total principal for all four loans was $897. The total payments documented in this affidavit were $117.71. As to the varied spelling of "Hendrix," this is the spelling on Susan's gravestone in Yates Center, Woodson County, Kansas.]
